DR. SNIVELY NAMED OHIO HEALTH CHIEF

COLUMBUS — (By Associated Press) — Dr. Harry H. Snively of Columbus, surgeon general of the Ohio National Guard, was today appointed by Governor Harry L. Davis to be director of the department of health, of the state of Ohio under the governmental reorganization plan, to go into effect July 1.

The health directorship is the second cabinet position to be filled by Governor Davis, the appointment of Floyd E. Waite, the governor's secretary, to be director of finance, having been announced last yesterday.

Dr. Snively, the new health director, is a native of Brownsville, Litchfield, and a graduate of Ohio State University. His broad experience in general health work is said to fit him exceptionally for the task assigned him. He won international recognition by his services along sanitary and general health lines during and after the world war, both at home and abroad.

RED CROSS CHIEF
In 1915, Dr. Snively was sent to Russia by the American Red Cross, as director-in-chief of its work there. He received the title of brigadier general in the Russian service. When American troops were mobilized for Mexican border service, he relinquished his title, and immediately left Russia to serve with Ohio troops on the border. During all of the period America was in the world war, he was in active service with the thirty-seventh division. At the end of the war he was given the task of directing the health inspection work in connection with embarkation of two hundred and fifty thousand American troops at Bordeaux, France.

PASS RESOLUTION FAVORING IRISH
Miss Mary MacSwiney's appeal for the recognition of the Irish Republic of America, delivered before some eight hundred people Friday night at Memorial Hall resulted in the passage of a resolution by those assembled, calling upon congress and the president to take immediate steps to recognize the Irish Republic.

Miss MacSwiney directed her appeal to the Lima people comparing herself to Benjamin Franklin during the revolutionary war period, when Franklin toured Europe in search of aid for the thirteen colonies.

DAMASCUS, Syria — An attempt was made to assassinate General Gouraud, commander-in-chief of the French army while traveling in an automobile from Damascus to the sea of Galilee in northern Palestine, by a group of bandits.

ATLANTIC CITY — "Dr." D. D. Murphy, colored leader of a religious sect, was shot dead in a room on the third floor of a house after holding two scores of police armed with revolvers at bay for several hours and wounding two of the policemen and a woman.

KENT — W. O. Jameson, Columbus, was elected president of the Ohio Universalists at the closing of their annual convention.

WEST HEMPSTEAD, N. Y. — (By Associated Press) — Lawrence Kubal, 26, a farm laborer, who police said, confessed to the murder of Mrs. Minnie S. Bartlett, wealthy widow, in her home here last Wednesday, was formally charged with the crime early today after he had repeated his statement to District Attorney Weeks.

SLAIN WITH CHISEL
Kubal's alleged confession contained the statement that he killed Mrs. Bartlett with a chisel while on his second visit to the house under pretext of purchasing the property. Police said Kubal told them he had never heard of Mrs. Bartlett until the morning of the murder. He was on his way to the house to look for work when he noticed small boys stealing cherries from the orchard, he was reported to have said, and asked them if they were not afraid they would be caught. The boys gave Kubal the first intimation that a wealthy widow lived alone in the house.

ASKED FOR MONEY
Kubal was said to have told the police he had asked Mrs. Bartlett for five hundred dollars and that she refused. She twirled a fountain pen nervously and this caused it to come into his mind to kill her, according to the police. First, however, police said he confessed to struggling with her and it was when he had thrown her to the floor that he saw her trying to loosen the cap of the pen.

Kubal was arrested at his home.

where he remained after the murder, refusing to leave in search of work. He had shaved off his moustache and was said to have told members of his family that he had killed a woman. This fact became known and led to his arrest.

Kubal was born in Poland and has a wife and two children. He has served short prison sentences in New Jersey.

11 CONVICTED IN ROBBERY AT TOLEDO

TOLEDO, Ohio, — (By Associated Press) — Eleven of thirteen defendants in Toledo's million dollar post-office robbery were convicted by a federal jury which reported to Judge John M. Kilgus at 9:30 this morning.

Charles Furrer and John J. Epps were the only ones found not guilty. The others convicted were:

Joseph Urbaytis, George Lewis, alias Rogers; Charles Schultz, James Sansone, Pearl Sommers, Emma Marvin, Wanda Urbaytis, Walter Foote, Edwin Zellich, Harry Thrush and Helen Furrer.

Sentences in each case will be deferred until trials in other indictments now pending, are completed. This will be some time between August 1 and 15.

The jury which had deliberated since 6:10 o'clock last night reached its verdict at 5 o'clock this morning. The verdict was sealed and announced at the opening of court.

TRIED FOR CONSPIRACY

The postoffice robbery occurred early on the morning of February 17, when six men held up two postal employees at the main postoffice and stole eleven mail sacks, a number of which contained registered mail.

The loot, including Liberty bonds and cash amounted to more than one million dollars.

A number of the defendants are accused of actually staging the robbery but the trial which had just been completed was for conspiracy only.

The trial began three weeks ago. There originally were eighteen defendants. Three of them pleaded guilty and received minor sentences. The indictments against two others, one a woman, were quashed on motion of Stuart Bolin, the government prosecutor.

THE DEAD

Mrs. Mary Sandler, 52; Mrs. H. A. Baron, 19, Mrs. Sandler's daughter, Doris Sandler, 12, another daughter and Evelyn Silbert, six years, granddaughter of Mrs. Sandler.

NATION UNITY HOPE PLACED WITH WOMEN

MEXICO CITY — (By Associated Press) — Urging the people of Mexico "who lived in the yesterday's" to forget them and look to the tomorrow, Mrs. J. C. Griswold, of San Antonio, Texas, Director General of the Pan-American Round Table, today addressed the International Conference of Merchants meeting here.

"We are ambitious to bring together the womanhood of the Western Hemisphere in a common understanding," said Mrs. Griswold, "believing that when the women understand each other, men can no longer misunderstand each other."

MAN OF TOMORROW

"We realize that the youth of today is the man of tomorrow, and to make nations we must begin by making men; men who are willing to include within the scope of international laws, men as subjects, and not as objects of these laws."

The women who compose the membership of the Pan-American Round Table appreciated long ago that Texas was the corner stone upon which to cement a closer and more lasting friendship between the two Americas.

The Pan-American Round Table membership consists of a Director General and an Assistant Director, also twenty-two women who represent twenty-two countries of the Western Hemisphere and an associate membership of thirty; fifteen native born American women and fifteen Mexican workers.

FLAG ADJUSTERS

"Each woman who represents the Republic tries to lose her identity as an American and see things thru the eyes of her Latin-American sister. Thus, we feel that we are binding ourselves more closely to our friends of the Southern Republics, and we hope that by the same means the women of Mexico will try to understand our methods and customs."

"The women of the Pan-American Round Table appreciate that the women of Mexico have, in many ways, as much to give as we have to offer. Too long have the men of my country and of yours hung the flag of the two Republics cross-wise. It is up to the womanhood to hang them side by side."

CARLINVILLE, Ill. — The mutilated body of Thomas Harmon, 19, was found weighted down in a shallow well near his home at Grenridge, near here late yesterday. Blood stains on the kitchen walls at his home and the report that Harmon had quarreled with his stepmother, Catherine Harmon, 36, led to her arrest. She is in jail here with a fourteen months old baby.

Mrs. Harmon protested her innocence, and explained that the stains on the kitchen wall resulted from her attempt to kill a chicken in the house. She said she had always gotten along well with her stepson. He left home Sunday morning, she said.

BELIEVED HE WAS KIDNAPPED

Mrs. Harmon gives credence to a kidnapping story. The dead boy's grandmother, Mrs. Martha Harmon, received a letter Wednesday, she said, purporting to be from the boy, in which he declared he was held for ransom by kidnappers. He directed his grandmother to ask his stepmother if she remembered the number of the car in which he was carried away.

Officials say they found evidence which indicates the youth was slain in his stepmother's home and his body dragged to the well. An old ax, which they say bore signs of having been in the fire to remove stains, was found.

PARENTS HAD SEPARATED

VOLSTEAD ACT ATTACKED IN NEW ILLINOIS SUIT

CHICAGO — (By Associated Press) — A suit to test provisions of the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead law was filed in United States district court today by former Senator J. Hamilton Lewis in an attempt to recover whiskey valued at five hundred thousand dollars stored in Chicago warehouses.

The plaintiffs are distillers and owners of bonded whiskey. The bill does not attack the validity of the prohibition amendment or of the Volstead law, but alleges no provision of either measure can apply to whiskey deposited in government warehouses by the direction of the government before either measure was passed, where the goods are now owned by the same owners who deposited the liquors on a contract to have it returned when the government tax was paid.

The principal new point of the complaint is that the provision of the constitution against manufacture of liquor referred to manufacture after, and not before, passage of the amendment.

The complainants, who state they do not desire to use the liquor for beverage purposes, ask for a mandatory injunction compelling the collector of internal revenue to order government warehouses to deliver the property to the holders of the certificate and enjoining national and state officers from interference after the owners have taken possession. The plaintiffs claim they have a right, under the law, to sell whiskey for medicinal or mechanical purposes.

The jurors—two women and ten men—were locked up for the night after they had failed to reach an agreement six and one-half hours after they had received the case.

MOOSE SQUAD TO ENTER CONTEST

Champions of United States Will Defend Their Title.

WON HIGH HONOR LAST YEAR

Members of Team Will Camp at Toledo Convention.

Lima's crack Moose drill team, champions of the United States will defend their title against all comers at Bay View Park, Toledo, Thursday, when the team led by Captain G. W. Brentlinger will compete with drill teams representing Moose Lodges from coast to coast. The battle to determine the best team will form part of the program of the national convention of the Loyal Order of Moose, to be held at Toledo June 27 to July 2.

The Moose team from Lima came home winners from the Mooseheart convention a year ago. They won the title there after a hard-fought contest on the drill field with other splendidly trained teams. Rochester, N. Y., Moose team was the runner up, scoring one point under the Lima aggregation.

The history of the organization dates back to 1912. A team of 16 men was formed and drilled each week under command of C. S. Feltner, captain. The team took part in competitive drills held during the national convention each year since and has always made an excellent showing.

TEAM IS REORGANIZED
Three years ago the team was reorganized and is now composed of 20 members, consisting of a captain, two lieutenants, a color bearer, bugler and 14 privates. But four of the original organization remain members.

Besides winning the championship a year ago, the Lima team took second honors two years ago, when they were defeated by Des Moines, Ia. Present members of the team who have been members during its seven years of existence are G. W. Brentlinger, M. S. Allen, Harry Hawk and A. T. Lego.

From the time the team enters a competitive drill until it has finished, no commands are given. Each man has his movements so memorized that he does his part almost like an automaton. Music is played during the time the team is drilled. It was this perfection that won the praise of the judges at Mooseheart, a year ago and caused them to award the palm to Lima over other teams from Rochester, Pittsburgh, Toledo, Detroit, Dallas, Fort Wayne and other cities.

Final practice will be conducted in Lincoln Park at 2 p. m. Sunday. The team will camp at Bay View Park in Toledo. The members accompanied by a band, will leave for the convention over the Ohio Electric Monday.

On Wednesday the Lima degree staff for ritualistic work will contest for the prize money offered for the teams making the best showing. Prizes for both classes total $12,000.

MEMBERS OF TEAM

Officers and members of the team are: G. W. Brentlinger, captain; A. W. Johnson, First Lieutenant; A. T. Lego, Second Lieutenant; H. S. Arnold, color bearer; Harry Westbay, bugler; Ross Kilger, musician; E. Harruff, G. K. Geiger, Leo Bibb, O. J. Shaw, Perry Roeder, Carl Miller, M. S. Allen, K. O. Riker, Ross Schell, M. Wukusick, "O. Two of the big days at the convention will be Davis Day, Wednesday, June 29, when the new Secretary of Labor will make his first big public address, since assuming his portfolio, and Harding Day, June 30, when the big annual parade will be held. A U. S. submarine, sent to Toledo thru the courtesy of Secretary of Navy Denby, will submerge daily in the bay.

MOVIE SECRETS ARE REVEALED

Q.—What are the three essentials in a film story?

A.—If you are going to write a film story or synopsis there are three essentials that you must get into it and they all begin with the letter "S." They are speed, suspense and surprise. Speed is necessary to carry your story along swiftly and to keep it from dragging uninterestingly. Suspense is absolutely necessary in order to keep the audience keyed up and interested. The surprise element is very important and keeps the story from becoming too obvious and also keeps the audience from guessing just how the picture is going to end.

Q.—Does Harold Lloyd wear eye-glasses in private life?

A.—Harold needs his specs only in the movies and then he uses them merely as part of his makeup. Harold's heavy tortoise rimmed comedy specs are all rims with no lens in them.

WAR VETERAN FINDS LONG LOST SISTER THRU HELP OF LOS ANGELES LIBRARY

LOS ANGELES — Reunited, thru a curious coincidence, with a sister from whom he had been separated for twenty years, a sick hero of the Dardanelles campaign and the sister for whom he had been searching are residing together in London, according to Everett E. Perry, Los Angeles librarian.

The two were brought together by the Los Angeles Public Library which became interested in the case when a letter was received by Librarian Perry from the London soldier asking aid in his hunt for his sister, who he thought might be living in Los Angeles, or vicinity.

While library workers were making an apparently hopeless attempt to find the missing woman, with the aid of the Los Angeles Police Department and the Sheriff's office, the woman was located by a strange development.

The brother had appealed to the library, knowing his sister to be a great lover of books. And it was thru this slender clue that the woman was finally found.

The woman later entered the library and requested help in looking up data relative questions, in which she was much interested, said Librarian Perry. Writing her name and address on a slip of paper, she left the library, with the request that the information sought be mailed to her.

Librarian attendants noticed that the name of the woman was that of the sister of the disabled war veteran. She was at once communicated with and placed in touch with her brother.

A letter received by Librarian Perry from the grateful war veteran brought the news that the long-separated brother and sister are residing happily together in London.

BOA CONSTRUCTOR ADOPTS WHITE MOUSE THAT WAS PUT IN CAGE FOR FOOD

NEW YORK — A small white mouse placed in the same cage with a South American boa constrictor as food for the latter, has been adopted by the snake according to Edwin A. Osborne, of No. 9418 One Hundred and Sixteenth-st., Richmond Hill, owner of this unusual family.

The mouse with the aid of some straw, has made a nest in the coils of the boa constrictor, and Mr. Osborne declares that the most amicable relations exist between the two.

Altho the snake is non-poisonous, it has great constrictive power and recently crushed the life out of a rat placed in the cage in twenty-four seconds. The reptile refused to eat the rat, however, and Mr. Osborne a day or so later placed the small white mouse in the cage. The mouse scampered in and out among the coils of the snake without interference by the latter, and the two have since been on the best of terms.

Mr. Osborne, who is a newspaper man and writer of animal stories who has made a hobby of collecting snakes, declared that this is the first instance on record, so far as he is aware, of a snake adopting a mouse.

HATRED IS BLAMED ON FRENCHMEN

Former Chancellor Claims Germans Sought Friendship

NOW BOTH ARE HOSTILE

Dr. Muller Enumerates Objections to Policy of France

By NEWTON C. PARKE
PARIS — (International News Service)—Reactionary, intensely national groups in both France and Germany are keeping alive the flames of hatred that were a consequence of the World War.

This is the view of Hermann Muller, who, as Chancellor of Germany, signed the Treaty of Versailles. He expressed it in an interview with a correspondent of the Paris Excelsior, to whom he described Marshal Foch as the French "bugbear" in the situation, and to whom he ascribed the French tendency to enforce the treaty by military measures.

"I had hoped that the spirit of hostility between our two countries, which is growing daily, would never develop," said Dr. Muller. "We are neighbors, and we should live on good terms. When the military defeat of Germany was accomplished and Germany became a republic we had but one wish—to throw a bridge between France and Germany and set to work without delay to establish friendly relations.

"But our dreams did not come true. This is because of the intense nationalist spirit in Germany, which lives on the same nationalist policy of the French Government. In each discussion which arises on the subject of the treaty France employs military measures for a settlement. It seems to me that the economic measures foreseen by the League of Nations would have been sufficient.

"Your party, the Social-Democratic, the least bitter toward France, does not let a day pass without abusing us and charging us with imperialism," observed the French correspondent. "Enumerate your criticisms of French policy which, you say, has aided the German reactionaries."

"First," replied the former Chancellor, "you retained our prisoners a year after we released yours. That appears to the German people to have been cruel. I was Chancellor in those times and my people called me a traitor to our unfortunate prisoners."

"Secondly, you used black troops. I know that too much has been said of that, but nevertheless the results were very profound.

FOCH IS FEARED

"Thirdly, the knowledge that in the Rhine provinces the American and English troops of occupation regarded themselves as neutrals, even as friends of the German population, while the French troops remained soldiers in a hostile country. "Fourthly, the French occupation of Frankfurt and Dusseldorf.

"Fifthly, the affair of to-day—Upper Silesia—where it is known that the English and Italians view the matter objectively, whereas the French have joined hands with the Poles.

"Sixthly, France's bitter opposition to the union of Austria with Germany.

"I admit that Germany owes France reparations. She should pay France by reconstructing the damage done by the German armies in the north of France. That is the program of the Socialist party, and that is why the majority of my compatriots call me a 'pacifist idiot.'

"We are carrying on a very difficult struggle against the reactionary movement in Germany. The argument of our adversaries is this: 'The French will always find a pretext for occupying the Ruhr and placing their frontier on the Rhine; consequently every pacific move we make is detrimental to the interests of Germany. Let me emit one hope. That is that if for some unknown reason there is a delay in the fulfillment of one of Germany's obligations France shall not turn loose at once her bugbear—Marshal Foch.

"France can have confidence in Chancellor Wirth."

BIG POWER PLANT IS PLANNED

Engineers Discuss Giant Transmission Line Thru Northwest

PORTLAND, Ore.—(By International News Service)—A superpower plant, which would mean consolidation of all power resources and the construction of a giant transmission line thru the Northwest, is being considered by engineering authorities from various parts of the country, who are now in this section investigating the feasibility of the proposition.

At a meeting held in Portland a survey committee of engineers was organized, and upon the results of the committee's investigations will depend the decision as to whether the project will be carried out. Eastern industrial and power concerns have professed faith in the superpower transmission theory, and construction of such a line between Boston and Baltimore, at a huge cost has been proposed. Power authorities on the Pacific coast believe the plan would be easier of fulfillment in the Northwest.

The principal feature in favor of the plan would be from the viewpoint of economy. Duplication of lines thru the stringing of parallel wires would be avoided, and all power plants of the district would be "hooked in" on one service line, supplying the industries of the North Pacific territory.

With all the power plants of the Northwest pooled into one system a "power reserve" would be created which would provide an added resource for new industries contemplating operation mainly thru the use of electricity, say engineers in charge of Eastern power line construction, who are here in an advisory capacity.

Industrial heads from Eastern States who have come to this part of the country looking for industrial plant locations have said in the past that the principal drawback has been the lack of sufficient power at a minimum cost.

Portland civic leaders have long admitted that the lack of power has been the "skeleton in the family closet" of this city and look with a great deal of interest upon the work of the committee.

PROBE DEMANDED IN JAPANESE CROWN PRINCE IS EXPECTED TO ASSUME LEAD IN OWN COUNTRY

SACRAMENTO, Cal.—(By Associated Press)—A telegram requesting an investigation of federal census figures showing the Japanese population of California to be 11,942 was forwarded to Senator Hiram W. Johnson by State Controller John S. Chambers today. "The federal census figures on Japanese population in California are extremely incorrect," the telegram stated. "The bureau of statistics has proved by checking the death list of Japanese that it is at least 109,000 here. S. figures tally with the federal 11,942 on every race except Japan and it appears that approximately thirty-eight thousand have escaped the census. This evasion is just another attempt to discredit the soundness of the Oriental issue."

JAPANESE CROWN PRINCE IS EXPECTED TO ASSUME LEAD IN OWN COUNTRY

TOKIO — The Crown Prince of Japan will return to Tokio late this summer. The first heir to the Japanese throne to travel in foreign parts, he is already attracting the attention of political dopesters as one who may take part, if not direct, as did his grandfather, the Emperor Meiji, in the affairs of a great nation.

The heir-apparent to the throne of Japan has thus far been a self-assertive, likeable young man, one who has been watched by a strong-minded Empress and guided by at least fair counsellors. His determination to be rid of some of the "guidance" given his father has been shown notably in two affairs; first, his refusal to listen to demands made by Prince Yamagata, political leader and near-dictator, that the Crown Prince give up his bride-to-be, the Princess Nagako, a daughter of Prince Kuni, old Satsuma clansman and a rival of Yamagata, Chesi; secondly, refusal the entreaties and attempts of questionable political leaders, to within the boundaries of the Japanese Empire.

No young man of twenty could take the trip now being taken by the Prince and fall to return to a man of strength and ideas, turning home when politics and conditions demand a leader, forced to flatter for his Imperial father, many an occasion, opposed by his own yet of positive make-up, there not in these circumstances opportunity for a "king to be king?"

Meantime, Prince Yamagata's resignation is held in abeyance, and political undercurrent in Tokio comes more troubled.

GEORGES, REGULAR FELLOW, FIRST TO SEND DEMPSEY BIRTHDAY CONGRATULATIONS

By JACK DEMPSEY.
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—Celebrated this twenty-sixth birthday of mine by loafing. Took a ride in the auto during the cool of the morning, then entertained some of my newspaper friends at the house and stuck indoors the rest of the time. The hottest day I've ever experienced here—almost as hot it seemed as that day in Toledo when I whipped Jess Willard. Those who were there that day will never forget it, and always will insist that the thermometer touched about 110.

LIKES TO SWIM
I certainly was keen to jump into the ocean for a swim—but my training rules bar the water treatment. I have found that tendency to relax the muscles. And that's something I want to guard against, as any fighter's training plan is designated to tune up those very same muscles.

Some of the boys wanted to know today if I had made any battle plans, asked what sort of fight I would wage against the Frenchman. This being a vacation day, with all work barred, I ducked even discussion of the fight with them. And I won't dip very deep into it here. I'm looking forward to Saturday as one of my very best training days. If this weather continues as hot as it was Friday I'll likely shed three or four pounds, due to the fierce sun and stiff workouts which I plan for Saturday with my big sparring partners.

GEORGES SENDS 'EM
My day was gladdened by gifts from some of my most intimate friends and by letters and telegrams of congratulations from others. One telegram came from Georges Carpentier and Francois Deschamps, and I certainly do appreciate their thoughtfulness and courtesy. It was a "regular" fellow act on their part.

I jumped on the scales this morning and it was announced that the scales registered 192 pounds. I hope to scale around the 190-pound mark when I strip for action.
I will gradually taper off in my work with the resumption of training tomorrow. A rest Monday will be followed by the final days of boxing Tuesday and Wednesday. Light exercise will be the program on Thursday, and Friday will be the departure for Jersey City.

Carpentier's Handlers Really Believe He'll Win

There is a deep-rooted belief in the camp of Georges Carpentier that the blonde Frenchman will attain his lifelong ambition—the world's heavyweight title—when he meets Jack Dempsey in Jersey City a week from today.

Francois Deschamps, the manager, and J. Wilson, the trainer, appear to be satisfied that the pugilistic idol of France is greater than ever and will repay their highest hopes in the forthcoming battle. They think that he will make Dempsey dizzy with his speed and will bowl him over for the count along about the fifth or sixth round.

Carpentier, in their opinion, will be so fast and clever that Dempsey will not be able to strike him one telling blow. Even granting that the champion may lay on the challenger, they believe that he is in such condition that it will take twenty of Jack's hardest wallops to stop him.

"HE'S A GENIUS"
"Nobody," they said, "has been able to take the fight out of him and today he is not merely a good fighter but a great one. He is a marvel, a genius."

"If everything goes right there will be a new world's heavyweight champion a week from today."

Really serious training has begun at the camp. This is evidenced if in no other way than by the action of the challenger in his last public appearance Thursday. All along he had been pulling punches, smiling and begging the pardon of opponents whose jaws he struck too hard.

On Thursday, however, there was little smiling in so far as he was concerned and no mercy whatever. He floored his men, kept his mouth shut and waved for another victim. Such will be the order of things from now until July 1, when the training period ends.

JACK RESUMES WORK
With his heavyweight championship contest one week away, Jack Dempsey today resumed training after a 24 hour layoff to celebrate his twenty-sixth birthday. The champion will box this afternoon and tomorrow and on Monday will spend another day in idleness. His workouts from now on will take place in the open air arena instead of in the airplane hangar, the scene of his training on Thursday.

Dempsey is in high spirits and shows none of the irritability that was noticeable a week ago. The champion was the guest of honor at a surprise party given him by newspaper men at his camp last night in remembrance of his birthday. At nine o'clock he bade his visitors good night, shook hands with each and thanked them for the party. Even on his birthday Dempsey did not care to disturb the regularity of his training hour.

RECEIVES 500 TELEGRAMS
Dempsey received more than five hundred telegrams yesterday wishing happy returns of his birthday. The telegram he prized above all was that from his mother in St. Louis. A telegram from Georges Carpentier was also received and a wire acknowledging the courtesy was dispatched by the champion to the challenger.

Dempsey's weight today is placed at 192 pounds by his trainer, Teddy Hayes. There is every possibility that he will scale under the 190 pound mark when he enters the ring at Jersey City. Next week's work probably will bring Dempsey's poundage still lower, as the weather has become hot.

The champion spent most of the afternoon yesterday motorizing. It was the hottest day of the year at Atlantic City.

Hutchison Leads
ST. ANDREWS, Scotland — Jock Hutchison, professional of the Glenview Country Club of Chicago, had a lead of three strokes over Roger Wethered, captain of the Oxford University golf team, after they had played the first 18 holes of their match to decide the British open championship. The match, which was at medal play, stood Hutchison 74; Wethered 77.

Lynch Goes West
NEW YORK — Joe Lynch, the world's bantamweight champion and Andy Chaney, the Baltimore featherweight, are on their way west today to fulfill their respective engagements to meet Joe Burnam and Bud Christians, at East Chicago, Indiana, next Tuesday night.

WHAT ARE CARPENTIER'S THOUGHTS AS HE LOOKS OVER SITE OF FIGHT

What were Georges Carpentier's feelings as he entered the arena at Jersey City, where he is to fight Dempsey, to inspect the big stadium and the ring where the heavyweight contest will be staged? It was Carpentier's final visit to the battle site before the big day. He stood in the center of the big wooden bowl to accustom himself to the surroundings, asked about the ring and then left. Promoter Tex Rickard, Manager Deschamps and Captain Mallat, personal friend and adviser of Carpentier, were in the party that made the trip from the Manhattan camp to Jersey City.

Base Stealing Is On The Decline—Managers Tell Why

CHICAGO—The stolen base, once one of the biggest factors in the attack of world championship baseball teams, has been thrown into the discard by the major league managers of today. Records show that there were nearly three times as many stolen bases in the American league and nearly twice as many in the National league nine years ago as there were last year and indications are that the decrease this year over nine years ago will be still greater. Where there were ten star base stealers there is now only one.

Many reasons for the decrease are advanced by managers and men who formerly were noted for their daring on the paths. While all agree that heavy hitting has helped in the tendency to make the stolen base extinct, some also blame the ineffectiveness of pitchers, failure of umpires to enforce the balk rule and the scarcity of fast men. Ty Cobb, the greatest base runner in history, says that the stolen base has been discarded only temporarily and will return soon.

IT'S HITTING CYCLE
Cobb declares that the game moves in cycles and that following the cycles of great pitching and great base running, we now have the cycle of great hitting.

"With the sluggers of today, base stealing is a back number," said the Detroit manager, whose stolen base mark formerly was close to the 100 figure for a season. "But, the hitting will pass. Then we will again return to the cycles of pitching and base-running. Five years from now my base running marks may be eclipsed by some youngster now in grammar school."

Tris Speaker, manager of the world champion Cleveland Indians, combines ineffectiveness of pitching with heavy hitting as the reason for the lack of stolen bases.

"The base runner of today is the man who can go from first to third or from second home on a single, not the man who can steal seventy-five bases in a season," said Speaker. "The ineffectiveness of the modern pitcher is the main reason."

NEW YORK — John J. McGraw, manager and half owner of the New York Giants, who have lost three games to the Cardinals, told a reporter recently that the Cardinals have a wonderful opportunity to give St. Louis its first pennant.

"The Cardinals are a great ball team," he said. "It looks to me as if the race for the flag is between New York, St. Louis and Pittsburgh. Cincinnati, altho down the list just now probably will be heard from later in the season."

"I am wonderfully impressed by the fighting spirit of the crowds in the stands. They are great crowds. Everybody seems to be talking baseball. The Giants are playing to better crowds than ever before."

"And the Cardinals are getting the breaks—a thing that a team has to have."

DRAW POKER IN LONDON CLUBS

AUCTION bridge is a game of skill, as the London police see it, and draw poker is a game of chance, says the Brooklyn Eagle. Hence the ruling that draw poker is gambling and must not be tolerated in the big clubs that have set aside rooms for the distinctively American game. We are told that some of the clubs propose to defy the order and make a legal issue of it.

Now this is a case where "old men for counsel" is a fine suggestion. There must be men in London who learned draw poker from that great warrior and statesman Gen. Robert Cumming Schenck, United States ambassador at the Court of St. James from 1870 to 1876. Only half a century has elapsed. We don't believe any Englishman who played with "Bob" Schenck would think for a moment of draw poker as anything but a game of skill.

As a matter of fact, it is a game of skill, tho, as in all card games, luck enters it as a temporary factor. In the long run the skillful player wins out.

What has confused the London police is the fact that the skill of this particular game lies not in the cards themselves or the handling of them but in psycho-analysis practiced on the pines and in the mining camps long, long before the word was invented. A game of draw poker is a microcosm of the business competition of complex civilization. The man who keeps his temper, knows when to stay out and when to come in, and estimates correctly the strength or weakness of others when he does come in, is the good poker player. Bluff is no more a part of the game than it is a part of business. Likewise, not playing with crooks is a good rule in each field.

If the London clubs are insistent on their rights the police will have to back down. They haven't a leg to stand on. That is clear enough to every American mind.

DO THE UTTERANCES PROCLAIM DESPAIR?

IN closing his dissenting opinion in the reorganization code case Ohio Supreme Court Justice James G. Johnson gave utterance to this striking thought, says the Cincinnati Enquirer:

"I have felt it my duty to place this dissent upon the record in the hope that it might to some extent, operate to check further tendency to disregard the plain provisions of our constitution, however vain and fanciful that hope may be."

It is hard to sense the depth of despair for constitutional government thus sounded by the learned Associate Justice. Its mere reading gives us a chill, an uncomfortable feeling, a strange perception of peril that we know not of, a foreboding that the land of law and order may suddenly turn riotous red, an apprehension that tumult may bring the man on horseback, and that free development may end in the night of oppression.

Is the situation so serious? We hope not. Great wrongs have been remedied, and they have been remedied without recourse to force. In the same case, in a dissenting opinion likewise, an associate asks whether this is, in fact, another Dred Scott decision. Here again we have a picture of years of horrors, of wrongs avenged in national sacrifice, of great grievances redressed in tears and suffering. But is there no simpler course?

Some learned men argue the need of reformation of the language of constitutions that rights may be more clearly set forth. We cannot reconcile such a step with sound judgment, nor yet with the despair of those who see our governmental fabric torn and rent. The dissenting Judges tell us that the provisions are so clear that plain men understand them well. To what purpose will others be written if these already are clear? If safeguards can be undone by legal legerdemain, why try to outwit those who would make a mockery of plain words?

Men long ago questioned and still do question whether government that rests upon the consent of the governed can endure. Men doubted whether this country or any other country which depended for existence upon anything other than brute force might continue. In the world at large military autocracy has been pretty well destroyed. Is it to be followed by a judicial autocracy?

We think not. Between the majority and the minority of the Ohio Supreme Court the battle is not yet over. If the majority be right, the minority must acquiesce. But if the majority were wrong (and the preponderance of opinion at this hour tends that way), the voices of condemnation for the perverse Judges will be heard even in the cloistered halls of the Courts. There, as in Courts of Kings and in powerful chancelleries, the still, small voice will make itself felt. The hour will dawn when the force of condemnation will make itself so potent that those who sought darkness rather than light will flee even as the guilty when no man pursueth.

Our thought is that the minority need not feel so deeply aggrieved. Historical wrongs have a manner of coming up for review again and again, and woe to the statesman or the jurist who fails to comprehend this fact, written deep in human history.

THE MARTYRDOM OF GEORGES

IF there was such a thing as composite speech and it was recorded at Carpentier's Manhasset training camp it would run something like this:

"Well, Georges, I hope you win. But I'm afraid you won't. Take my word for it that when you fight Dempsey you fight an earthquake, a team of mules, a bob cat, a barbed-wire entanglement and a case of dynamite all rolled in one. Sorry, old chap," says the Toledo Blade.

The good wishes are mobilized on Carpentier's side. Opinion is with Dempsey. It is sound opinion, tough fibred of experience. Dempsey does not classify as a man in the ordinary sense. He appears to be a throwback, linked across the ages with some strange crossing with the gorilla. Wallop is an inadequate word for the thing he packs in his glove. It corresponds somewhat to the blows by which the axle of an automobile is shaped. It has a tearing quality suggesting the walrus in action. Sparring partners, hit in the back of the neck during clinches, report violent, excruciating headaches. Mr. Jess Willard had a notion after the first minute that he had been hypnotized. We suppose there is a sort of hypnosis in the slap of a grizzly bear. That is the slap which Dempsey has.

M. Carpentier is at heart gentle. Landing a heavy right on the jaw of Marcel Denis the other day the French champion cried out "oh" and caught Denis in his arms to keep him from falling. Mr. Dempsey is troubled by no such impulses. He loves to floor 'em. He finds delight in the smack and crack of tortured bones. Wherefore he is more suited to pugilism than Carpentier. The game is not to the kindly of heart. It is to the fellow primitive, primeval, primordial who goes for his man as if he would eat him and proceeds to use him up unpleasantly.

High hopes flame for Georges. If desire could help him he would win, having most of the popular desire there is. Alas, wishes count for nothing in the prize ring. There concussion counts.

JUNE DICTIONARY.

Bride—The heroine of a joyful occasion when most everybody cries. (Later becomes famous divorcee or remains respectable and unheard of.)

Groom—The party who shake hands with so you can go over and kiss his wife.

Best Man—A fellow who wonders after the ceremony just why they called him that.

Minister—The only person present who looks really pleased over the affair.

Jellyfish—The beach species of the genus lounge-lizard.

Bathing Suit (Lady's)—Similar to street dress, except with higher neck and longer skirt. (Man's)—A conservative form of the above.

Sixty per cent of the men who always talk business really know nothing about it at all. Look out for the silent man.

Kissing has always seemed to us a good deal like a game of chess, interesting, but not especially worth while unless one has practiced it enough to acquire the necessary skill.

That is to say, the general, ubiquitous kissing now highly recommended as a stimulant to health, and germicide measure by Dr. Katsoff, of Bridgeport, in an address to the Philosophical Society of that erudite town.

He speaks especially of kissing "among lovers," and "among sweethearts." It is this word "among" which will probably dampen general emulation of the Katsoff exercise.

Kissing "between" lovers has always been more in our line. That is a kind of kissing which rises spontaneously to the lips and does, indeed, as Dr. Katsoff has beautifully said, "send forth ethereal and hypnotic waves, traveling with great velocity, electrifying and rejuvenating every psychic, mental and physical cell structure of the body." It is, of course, a "most potent agency for courage, good cheer, optimism, hope, health and longevity."

The kissing "between" lovers is a thing which all the editors after deliberation unhesitatingly endorse. But only the advertising staff at all favor the "among."

One of the latter has had the arduous task: "When Commissioner Copeland, of New York, gets ready to adopt the Katsoff thesis and to send out his first squad of kissable young women to make the rounds of the town in search of germs to destroy, may I have the good fortune to be on the list of the patients who are scheduled for disinfection?"

This young man's impulse for publicity is irrepressible.

WHAT THE STARS PREDICT

This is a lucky day. There may be friction between important members of Congress during the summer. There is an indication that four fires will occur in the U. S. and that serious loss will be feared in a large city.

Great changes will take place in the U. S. which is under a census.

During the next few weeks there will be much discussion of railway conditions and a serious problem connected with them will be given much consideration. Persons whose birthday this year will have a successful and happy year.

Children born on this day will be capable and ambitious, and great hostesses have been under this sign. (Copyright, 1921.)

Hi Stubbins, S.

"From City Clerk to City Mayor" that's what Jimmy Hefflin after. Jimmy would make a one, too. You know he was a time Managing Editor of the "Field Shield." Well, remember me, nobody ever stepped on a wire. Go to it. The Hooper Furniture Co. are the live wire minute dealers in this town.

NEWBURGH'S grand old man, Louis C. Post, seventy-six years old, as Phosphated Iron keeps him feeling young and vigorous.

"I am now past seventy-six years of age, and never felt better in my life," says Louis C. Post, of Washington Place, Newburgh, N. Y. "I can hold up my end of a day's work with the best of them."

"It may sound unreasonable, but when I commenced taking Phosphated Iron, I was a broken-down old man. My stomach had gone back on me. I was nervous and all worn out. I thought my time had come. 'Today I have as much strength and energy as I ever had. I do not feel a day over forty years of age. I have my own living, and ask no part of any man. I have put on so much weight that all my friends are surprised. I do not know what Phosphated Iron has become of me. I have been told it had not given me a new lease of life, and I will praise it to the end of my days.'"

Always insist on Phosphated Iron. Capsules. Do not take pills or talcums. Loading Druggists everywhere. Butler's Drug Store, Baldu Central Drug Store, Hunter's D. Stores.

CANADA TO HONOR INDIAN CHIEF

Tecumseh's Last Battle Field to Be Made Into Park

SPOT OF GRAVE UNKNOWN

Redman's Final Fight Was Battle of Thames

TORONTO, Ont.—(By International News Service.)—What boy of Canada or the United States has not thrilled to the exploits of Tecumseh? The conspiracy of the great chief of the Shawnees to unite the Indian tribes into one vast confederation for a last desperate stand against the whites, a plan smashed by Harrison's victory at Tippecanoe, is one of the most absorbing chapters of early American chronicles.

The field where Tecumseh fought his last fight and where he sleeps his last sleep is soon to be transformed into a park. It is in Southern Ontario, near Moraviantown, on Thames River. The fight is known in Canadian annals as the battle of Moravian town, and in American as the battle of the Thames.

Every day trains whizz over it on the Grand Trunk Railway, and autoists traverse it by the Longwoods road, but few know that the farm-lands that now divide it are classic ground, over which the Americans waged a hard-fought battle, against the British and their Indian allies in the War of 1812. The Tecumseh Memorial Association of Moraviantown has recently taken steps to co-operate with the Ontario Government in converting the battlefield into a highway park.

Tecumseh, according to tradition, was killed in the battle by a shot from the pistol of Colonel Richard M. Johnson, of Kentucky, later Vice-President of the United States. He was buried on the field, but the exact location of his grave is unknown. "After the battle," said Chief Tobias, of the Moraviantown Indian Reserve recently, "the Indians retreated three days up the Thames. Then they sent three warriors back to bury Tecumseh. One of these, a Delaware named Snake, was left to guard the grave, while the other two, who were of Tecumseh's own tribe, located the chief's body and buried it. The two Shawnees told Snake where the grave was dug, and the three Indians took an oath never to reveal the spot. This was to prevent possibility of desecration."

"The Shawnees went back to Ohio, where they rejoined the Prophet, Tecumseh's brother, and with him were transferred by the American Government west of the Mississippi. They never revisited the battlefield. Snake lived to old age on the reserve at Moraviantown. Until his death he kept faithful but clandestine watch over the grave. When the Grand Trunk Railway was built thru the battlefield he was afraid it would pass over the burial place. But this did not happen, and Tecumseh still sleeps in the spot at grave where his warriors laid him to rest more than a hundred years ago."

AMOS PHILLIPS DIES
Amos P. Phillips, 78, brother of County Auditor Charles R. Phillips, died at his home in Findlay, Friday, according to word received by Phillips. He was a traveling salesman for the Canton Art Metal company for 32 years and worked steadily until last November. Funeral services will be held Sunday at 2:30 o'clock at the residence, 123 E. Hardin-st., Findlay. Interment will be in that city.

CARD OF THANKS.
We desire to thank our relatives, friends and kind neighbors who so willingly helped us and gave us their sympathy at the loss of our baby boy Harold. Also to thank all who sent him flowers and those who lent their machines to carry the friends to the cemetery.

Mrs. Farmerie E. Rice and Family.

WASHINGTON—Rear Admiral William S. Sims was publicly reprimanded by Secretary Denby for his speech at the English-Speaking Union in London June 8, in which he discussed Irish sympathizers in America.

2 MEN ARE FINED

Admit Having Liquor in Their Possession.

Pleading guilty to have in their possession and transporting intoxicating liquors, when arraigned in police court, Saturday, Farvel Jones, 24, Spencerville, and Fred M. Preston, 33, Mendon, were each fined $500 by Judge Emmett Jackson.

Preston, who is foreman of a pipe line gang working near Spencerville, declared he purchased the liquor for, and was conveying it to members of his crew. He denied selling it, or even that he contemplated selling it.

The liquor was being conveyed in Jones' car, he said.

GUS BARCLAY, who says "You can tell the world that Neutrone Prescription '99' freed me of rheumatism".

The rapid recovery of Gus Barclay of 99 Clinton St., Kingston, N. Y., has again called attention to the remarkable curative effects of Neutrone Prescription "99".

Here is his story:

"For years I have been all crippled up with rheumatism in my arms and legs. My feet would swell so that I could not even get my shoes on. My knees became so stiff that I could hardly bend them. Every step I took was agony. I could barely hobble around.

"One knows what I suffered until I tried Neutrone Prescription "99". After the first week I felt better. What a relief! It seemed too good to be true. All my aches and pains have gone; no more swelling, and my joints are all limbered up again.

"I feel myself a lucky man to be so well again after all these years. I can say that Neutrone Prescription "99" will prove a blessing to anyone suffering from this dreaded disease. Every rheumatic should take it, when relief is so sure."

"Neutrone Prescription "99" now comes in tablet as well as liquid form, whichever is preferred. Leading Druggists everywhere.

DRESSMAKER MADE WELL

Followed a Neighbor's Advice and Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Vernon, Tex.—"For three years I suffered untold agony each month with pains in my sides. I found only temporary relief in doctor's medicine or anything else I took until my husband saw an advertisement of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I mentioned it to a neighbor and she told me she had taken it with good results and advised me to try it. I was then in bed part of the time and my doctor said I would have to be operated on, but we decided to try the Vegetable Compound and I also used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I am a dressmaker and am now able to go about my work and do my housework besides. You are welcome to use this letter as a testimonial as I am always glad to speak a word for your medicine."—Mrs. W. M. STEPHENS, 1103 N. Commerce St., Vernon, Texas.

Dressmakers when overworked are prone to such ailments and should profit by Mrs. Stephens' experience.

Write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass., about your health. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

THE FUNNIEST FACE ON THE SCREEN TODAY

"SEE MY LAWYER" AT THE LYRIC STARTING TOMORROW

T. Roy Barnes, the Robertson-Cole star, has always had the happy faculty of making people laugh. Even during the height of his success on the legitimate stage his work came easy to him, and since his cinema debut this same happy faculty has been brought into play with twofold success.

This famous comedian will come to the Lyric tomorrow in the greatest farce-comedy of his career, "See My Lawyer," which surpasses even "So Long Letty" with its mirth. Al Christie directed the picture.

Max Marcin, the author of T. Roy Barnes' latest farce, gives an explanation of the comedian's popularity, when he states that Mr. Barnes uses the old saying—"Laugh, and the world laughs with you," to best advantage.

Mr. Barnes has tried his laugh prescription on "See My Lawyer" with excellent effect. Al Christie, the director, admits the comedian's ability to transfer his wonderful wit from the stage to the screen, but he is now satisfied that Barnes is a marvel. In the supporting cast are such clever artists as Grace Darmond, Lloyd Whitlock, Jean Acker, Tom McGuire, Ogden Crane, J. P. Lockney, Lincoln Plumer and Bert Woodruff. Don't miss this picture tomorrow.
